Rev. Crimm Preached Sermon To Great Throng at Tabernacle

REV. B. B. CRIMM

Noted Evangelist Will Only Be in Bryan Four More Days—Meeting Will Close.

REVIVAL MEETING DRAWING TO A CLOSE

(By J. F. Holder, reporter)

Rev. B. B. Crimm electrified a congregation of 3,000 people at the Baptist tabernacle Tuesday night. His hearers were stacked in the aisles, in windows, all around the building, on top of the roof and back into the church building itself and many had to sit in autos as far as a block away. People were here from Rockdale, Hearne, Navasota, Calvert and many other places to hear this wonderful sermon. His subject was "A Sinner Made a Sinner by His Environment." In it Rev. Crimm discussed the moving picture show, the midnight auto ride, the mixed swimming party and the dance. He warned his people early in the campaign that he was going to preach a sermon on that subject.

The evangelist used as his scripture part of the 15th chapter of Luke the eighth and ninth verses. "Either what women having ten pieces of silver, if she lose one piece, doth not light a candle and sweep the house and seek diligently to find it, and when she hath found it, she calleth her friends and her neighbors together, saying rejoice with me; for I have found the piece which I have lost." He said in part: "This piece of silver was not lost because of its own fault, but because of the negligence of some one else, this woman perhaps laid the piece of coin down and in cleaning up she moved it in some way and did not notice it and it fell behind something and was lost from her sight. It was lost because of the things around it, the environment. I believe in heredity but do you know I can take good environment and knock the socks of heredity? The environment around this coin was bad and the environment around Bryan is bad. The moving picture show is the worst. The picture show is a great invention and could be made one of the greatest educational institutions in the world if it was handled right but it has fallen into the hands of a bunch of downright devils and red lighters and it is doing more to damn our American people than anything else in all the world. I judge everything by its finished product. I like a cotton gin because it gins the cotton and cotton is worth more after it is ginned than it is before. I like a flour mill because wheat is made into flour and flour is worth more than wheat. I hate the picture show because it has given us the biggest crop of little old bobbed-haired vamps the world has ever known. I am against the picture show because it has torn down our old time ideal of love and marriage. It is teaching free-loveism and there is no greater evil lurking into the homes of the American people today than that contemptible idea of free-loveism. You folks here in Bryan may want it but I don't want it. My God, now a girl cannot marry unless she has a dramatic wedding and in about three months she has a disgraceful divorce suit and then she gets over that and gets her another. Listen to me: used to be when people had sense their ideal of love and marriage was that a young man and a young woman loved the sacredness of their courtship and it was a downright shame and a crime for a boy to kiss a girl before they were married. Now girls won't let a boy go with them but about twice if he does not hug and kiss them. Do you know what is the matter with our young people? The picture show has taught them to spoon, hug and kiss each other, pinch, tickle and squeeze each other until they have lost all of their character and manhood. The picture show is doing more to feed our divorce courts than any other agency in the world, 90 per cent of the divorce cases on court dockets today if the truth were known was prompted by the picture show," Crimm asserted. "About the auto ride I want to say that the automobile, if it was used in the right manner would be the greatest blessing the world has had. It is a great pleasure to own a good automobile and enjoy the benefits that go with sane use of it. The automobile has done more to revolutionize industry than any one other thing in the ages. It is a commercial necessity, but the way it has been used is a social curse. These midnight auto rides are as vicious

MILLCAN CLUB HAS A ROUISING MEETING WITH 200 PEOPLE ATTENDING

The newly organized Millican Club held one of the most enjoyable and beneficial community meetings ever assembled in Brazos county at Millican Monday night. Two hundred men, women and children were present. Mrs. A. J. Edwards, president of the club, presided. Instructive talks were given by Professor P. A. Deering, Professor Anton Ernst of Allen Academy, Mr. J. F. Oates of Bryan, Director T. O. Walton of the Extension Service, A. and M. College, Professor J. H. Kraft, County Agent C. L. Beason and Secretary S. E. Eberstadt of the Bryan and Brazos County Chamber of Commerce.

Although the club is but two months old it has become a real live organization in the community and the country. It meets once a month. Professor P. A. Deering called the meeting to order at 8 o'clock and introduced Professor Anton Ernst, director of the Ernst orchestra of Allen Academy. The orchestra, which is composed of Allen Academy students, gave several much appreciated selections, among them, "America Forever," "Festival Overture" and "Whispering". This was followed by a song, "Organize, Organize," given by the Millican high school girls.

Professor Deering then introduced Secretary S. E. Eberstadt of the Bryan and Brazos County Chamber of Commerce, and the latter put the meeting in motion with a few well-chosen remarks. He then introduced Professor Ernst, and the latter spoke on the power and value of music in the home. "A Perfect Day" was then played by the Ernst orchestra. An interesting address entitled, "Better Poultry for Brazos County" was made by Mr. J. F. Oates of Bryan. He convinced his hearers in a practical way that raising poultry was a profitable business, and gave figures to prove it, taken from his own flock. There was an intermission in which the orchestra rendered some of the standard airs of America. County Agent C. L. Beason talked on cooperation and better agriculture. He introduced the principal speaker of the evening, Director T. O. Walton of A. and M. Extension Service with these appropriate remarks: There is in Texas a man who is the directing head of an organization that is performing a great and constructive work for Texas. He is truly an apostle of better agriculture and cooperation.

Director Walton told in a forceful and enjoyable way of the upbuilding of the Wellborn community, and congratulated those present on the excellent showing made by the Millican Club already. His remarks were applauded at every opportunity. The Ernst orchestra played several pieces. The meeting was then turned over to Secretary Eberstadt, who started in by telling a negro yard entitled "Right Now" and then launched immediately into his subject, which was "A Community Fair For Millican." He did not stop to find out how many present were in favor of having a fair next fall in Millican, but launched into his project with enthusiasm, at the end asking the audience if they favored the fair. Every one of the 200 present answered in the affirmative by standing.

County Agent Beason related his celebrated "possum" story and boosted the "Millican Fair for 1922" idea as a worthy one. Professor J. H. Kraft was called on and said that the meeting was all "simply grand" in every respect. Mr. John Battle, Mr. Fletcher Pool, Mr. J. W. Burrows and others all expressed themselves as "right ready and raring to have a fair in the fall." There was some music, after which Professor Deering called for a rising vote of thanks and appreciation for the services of the Ernst orchestra, which were freely given. Every citizen of Millican is reminded that the fair is to be held "sure thing," and that it is not too early to begin right now preparing exhibits for it.

as hell and are causing more of our young women and girls to lose their virtue and our young men to lose their manhood and character than anything in all the world. Nowadays they go to the picture show and look on the screen for an hour to all kinds of hugging and spooning and everything that is bad and mean and corrupt and then after the show they go for ride and try all of the things they see in the picture show, and lie out until 2 and sometimes 3 o'clock in the morning and you wonder what has become of our moral standards. Do you wonder that we have any moral standards at all? I do and we are coming to the point where modesty and character and virtue are getting to be a joke and you fathers and mothers will let your girls go out nights in automobiles and go to bed and go to sleep and never know when they get home, if they ever do, and you think you have the best girl in town. I am wondering when we are going to get back to real fatherhood and motherhood? Now for the swimming party,

The Bryan Weekly Eagle of March 16 contained 716 inches of reading matter. Of this amount 664 inches was pure reading matter prepared in the Eagle office and all being local happenings at College, Bryan and in the different communities in Brazos county and 52 inches were advertising. There is no weekly paper in Texas that gives more real county local news to the amount of advertising than the Eagle. In speaking of this matter recently the Fairfield Recorder said: "The Bryan Weekly Eagle has more real county local matter and less advertising than county newspaper in Texas." The Eagle is just giving these facts so that the thoughtful citizen can understand the expense and real labor attached to the publication of real newspapers. The Eagle feels that it is doing its full duty for Bryan and Brazos county and deserving of support at least an amount that will pay operating expenses. This is its view and it believes this is correct. The Eagle is doing as much as any institution or business for the general good and is able to do so. It invites the co-operation and support of every citizen in the laudable undertaking now and in the future. The Eagle points that it is recognized as a county newspaper everywhere and perhaps has as many real friends as any newspaper in Texas.

Four hundred negro school children assembled in Bryan from 30 of the 33 rural colored schools of Brazos county Saturday and paraded through the business section of the city. Starting from the colored park in north Bryan south on North Main street the children, bearing banners on which were inscribed patriotic expressions, singing hymns and school yells, and some of them riding in paley be-decked floats marched down the street turning east on 21st street, traversing that thoroughfare for about four blocks and returning past the Eagle office on Main street. The floats represented "King Cotton and Queen Corn" and other agricultural crops. The hundreds of negroes who had come to Bryan for the purpose of viewing the parade were fascinated spectators of the scene. The committee which arranged the spectacle was composed of Mrs. K. E. Summers, Industrial Supervisor of Bryan Colored school, Prof. L. A. Nash, county demonstrator and Prof. A. L. Jourdan, the president of the Teachers' League. Under the auspices of the colored teachers from the rural districts an Industrial and Interscholastic League meet was held at the colored park Saturday morning. The park building was tastefully decorated with the industrial booths of the different rural schools. The booths had a variety of handicraft work on tables and against the walls which proved how hard some of the teachers are working. Honorable mention may be made of these schools: Cawthorn, Post Oak, Woodville, Wilcox Mount Rose, Derden, Mount Enterprise, MacMillian, Pleasant Grove, Pleasant Hill, Rogers School, Kurten, Bottom Courier School, Lees Chapel and Brushy.

CHARLEY ANDERSON FREED BUT GAUSE TO TRIAL NEXT WEEK

Charley Anderson was given his liberty by a jury in the Brazos County District Court Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock but J. L. Gause has not been tried to date. Both men were indicted on a charge of having robbed John Blake, a negro, last December. The case against Anderson has finally been disposed of and the case against J. L. Gause will be tried some day next week... The arrest of these men was the outgrowth of what sounded like a tale from the Arabian Nights for the unusual settings and incidents of the case. On December 29 five or six negroes hired a service car in this city and went to a place about one and one-half miles west of Bryan in a ravine. A game of "Black Jack" or "21" is said to have been then held with much enthusiasm, John Blake, one of the negroes, won the money making all the other "dusty sons of Africa" feel that they were "broke flat".... It was alleged that Gause and Anderson then robbed the negro Blake of his "windings".... It is not known what occurred to the other players. The Jury was discharged Thursday and court will resume next Monday, the last week of the present term of the District Court when a number of matters of importance will come up before Judge W. C. Davis.

The parade at 2 p. m. was a fine display. Special mention must be made of the Cawthorn school float which was beautifully decorated and contained a "Queen Corn and King Cotton" and her attendants. Prof. Nash and Mrs. K. E. Summers and Prof. Jourdan have to be congratulated on the success of their achievements. The teachers as a whole are a fine, hardworking lot and such displays go far to encourage their efforts.

Mr. Light and Mr. Parsons, owners of the park are thanked for the use of the park, also the many friends and visitors who helped to contribute towards the success of the meet. The ministers also deserve thanks for their help. Rev. Kelan who opened with prayer, Rev. Ford, Rev. Stoval, Rev. W. W. Evans who acted as judge and Miss A. Hall was a judge also. The teachers have to be particularly grateful to County Superintendent Eck Smith and Prof. Craft of the A. and M. College for having been able to do so much. Prof. Craft especially having assisted in organizing the Interscholastic League of which there are 22 members among the 38 colored rural schools.

BUFFS DEFEAT AGGIES

College Station, Texas, March 22.

The Houston Buffs defeated the Texas Aggies in the first game of baseball at Kyle Field Monday afternoon by score of 9 to 5.

I want you to understand me before I go any further. I believe a fellow ought to take a bath once a year whether he needs it or not, but I do not see why men and women should strip off and go in the same bath tub together. Listen, wimmin' is modesty, virtue and character and when a woman pulls off her clothes and puts on a modern bathing suit she sacrifices every bit of her modesty and womanhood. As for the tango, the one step, the two step, the tango, the bunny hug, the tickle-toe, the cheek-to-cheek and the shimmy—if we continue in the next fifty years what will we do? Every time a youth or girl goes on the floor and dances the modern dance she disgraces herself that very moment. It has been well said, "So goes the home so goes the nation, so goes the mother so goes the home." I can add to that, "So goes the girl so goes the mother." The greatest need of today is diverting back to those ideals and standards used when men and women girls and boys had manhood, womanhood, character and virtue. Don't blame the boys and girls as they are not to blame so much as you parents. God help us to get back to that standard of living where we can make the world a better place to live in. God bless you all."

BRAZOS COUNTY DISTRICT COURT IN THREE CASES

Zeb Daniels Gets Two Years—Jack King One in "Pen"—Rizepti Suspended Sentence When Justice's Wheels Grind Monday In the Brazos County District Court—Last Week of Term.

The wheels of justice, which are supposed to "turn exceedingly slow, but grind exceedingly fine" went whirling all Monday without a stop in the Brazos County District Court, and turned out three penitentiary sentences before 5 o'clock in the afternoon. A two year and a one year sentence in the penitentiary were handed down, also a two year suspended sentence. This is rapid movement for the "cumbersome machinery of court" as many picture court procedure to be.

Zeb Daniels, a negro, plead guilty to felony theft and was sentenced to two years confinement in the state penitentiary before District Judge W. C. Davis Monday morning. The whole trial lasted less than two hours. Daniels confessed to having robbed the Cole Hardware Company of Bryan on the night of December 4, 192

THIRTY OF COLORED RURAL SCHOOLS HAVE 400 CHILDREN PARADE

Four hundred negro school children assembled in Bryan from 30 of the 38 rural colored schools of Brazos county Saturday and paraded through the business section of the city. Starting from the colored park in north Bryan south on North Main street the children, bearing banners on which were inscribed patriotic expressions, singing hymns and school yells, and some of them riding in paley be-decked floats marched down the street turning east on 26th street, traversing that thoroughfare for about four blocks and returning past the Eagle office on Main street. The floats represented "King Cotton and Queen Corn" and other agricultural crops. The hundreds of negroes who had come to Bryan for the purpose of viewing the parade were fascinated spectators of the scene. The committee which arranged the spectacle was composed of Mrs. K. E. Summers, Industrial Supervisor of Bryan Colored school, Prof. L. A. Nash, county demonstrator and Prof. A. L. Jourdan, the president of the Teachers' League. Under the auspices of the colored teachers from the rural districts an Industrial and Interscholastic League meet was held at the colored park Saturday morning. The park building was tastefully decorated with the industrial booths of the different rural schools. The booths had a variety of handicraft work on tables and against the walls which proved how hard some of the teachers are working. Honorable mention may be made of these schools: Cawthorn, Walker settlement, Cottonwood, Post Oak, Woodville, Wilcox, Mount Rose, Derden, Mount Enterprise, MacMillan, Pleasant Grove, Pleasant Hill, Rogers School, Kurten, Bottom Courier School, Lees Chapel and Brushy.

CHARLEY ANDERSON FREED BUT GAUSE TO TRIAL NEXT WEEK

Charley Anderson was given his liberty by a jury in the Brazos County District Court Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock but J. L. Gause has not been tried to date. Both men were indicted on a charge of having robbed John Blake a negro, last December. The case against Anderson has finally been disposed of and the case against J. L. Gause will be tried some day next week. The arrest of these men was the outgrowth of what sounded like a tale from the Arabian Nights for the unusual settings and incidents of the case. On December 29 five or six negroes hired a service car in this city and went to a place about one and one-half miles west of Bryan in a ravine. A game of "Black Jack" or "21" is said to have been then held with much enthusiasm. John Blake, one of the negroes, won the money making all the other "dusty sons of Africa" feel that they were "broke flat." It was alleged that Gause and Anderson then robbed the negro Blake of his "winning"....It is not known what occurred to the other players. The Jury was discharged Thursday and court will resume next Monday, the last week of the present term of the District Court when a number of matters of importance will come up before Judge W. C. Davis.

Mr. Light and Mr. Parsons, owners of the park are thanked for the use of the park, also the many friends and visitors who helped to contribute towards the success of the meet. The ministers also deserve thanks for their help. Rev. Kelton who opened with prayer, Rev. Ford, Rev. Stoval, Rev. W. W. Evans who acted as judge, and Miss A. Hall was a judge also. The teachers have to be particularly grateful to County Superintendent Eck Smith and Prof. Craft of the A. and M. College for having been able to do so much. Prof. Craft especially having assisted in organizing the Interscholastic League of which there are 22 members among the 38 colored rural schools.

Mr. P. S. Park, Mayor Tyler Haswell, Vick Bros. Feed Store, Myers Hardware Co. and the Bryan Daily Eagle are thanked for their aid and encouragement of the meet and the parade.

BUFFS DEFEAT AGGIES.

College Station, Texas, March 22.—The Houston Buffs defeated the Texas Aggies in the first game of baseball at Kyle Field Monday afternoon by a score of 9 to 5.

I want you to understand me before I go any further. I believe a fellow ought to take a bath once a year whether he needs it or not, but I do not see why men and women should strip off and go in the same bath tub together. Listen, wimmin' is modesty, virtue and character and when a woman pulls off her clothes and puts on a modern bathing suit she sacrifices every bit of her modesty and womanhood. As for the dance, the one step, the two step, the tango, the bunny hug, the tickle-toe, the cheek-to-cheek and the shimmy—if we continue in the next fifty years like we have in the past fifty years what will we do? Every time a youth or girl goes on the floor and dances the modern dance she disgraces herself that very moment. It has been well said, "So goes the home so goes the nation, so goes the mother so goes the home." I can add to that, "So goes the girl so goes the mother." The greatest need of today is diverting back to those ideals and standards used when men and women girls and boys had manhood, womanhood, character and virtue. Don't blame the boys and girls as they are not to blame so much as you parents. God helps us to get back to that standard of living where we can make the world a better place to live in. God bless you all."

HAMBY OPPOSES MILLER ON KLAN ISSUE IN TRAVIS CO.

Sheriff Miller Admits He Is Member of Ku Klux Klan and Constable Hamby Announces at Austin Against Him—Fowler Non-Commital.

(By Associated Press)

Austin, March 22.—Constable Charles Hamby has announced as a candidate for sheriff of Travis county on anti-Ku Klux Klan ticket subject to the Democratic primary in July. Sheriff Miller candidate for re-election admitted to the grand jury several months ago that he was a member of the Ku Klux Klan. Rex Fowler, another candidate for sheriff has not announced how he stands on the Klan question. The race promises to be a lively one from now until July 22.

WINNERS IN EGG CONTEST.

College Station, Texas, March 18.—

The highest pen for the month of February in the Fifth Texas National Egg Laying Contest, being conducted at the A. and M. College of Texas, was one of Barred Plymouth Rocks owned by M. A. Lee of Seadrift, Texas, with 90 eggs. His other pen tied for second place with a pen of S. C. Rhode Island Reds, from J. W. Lee of Lometa, Texas, each with 80 eggs. Four individuals, one from Alex Stewart, Santa Cruz, California, A. S. C. White Leghorn; a Barred Plymouth Rock from M. A. Lee and a S. C. Rhode Island Red from Mrs. Will Lynch, Springtown, Texas, and a S. C. Rhode Island Red from J. W. Lee, all tied for first place each with 22 eggs. The average production for the month was 10.3 eggs, each bird consumed an average of 6.6 pounds of feed and one dozen eggs were produced at a cost of 7.68.

MISDEMEANOR CASE BRINGS FINE ON DEFENDANT'S PLEA.

Boney Williams plead guilty to misdemeanor charges in the Brazos County District Court and was fined $10 Wednesday morning, before Judge W. C. Davis. Forfeiture of bonds were taken in the cases of B. Briton and Paul Delia. The jury was excused until 2 o'clock this afternoon when it resumed work.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Perry of Navasota came to Bryan today to attend the Crim revival services at the Baptist tabernacle. They are guests of friends in the city.

OMAHA VS. AGGIES.

College Station, Texas, March 22.—Fagan Burch's Omaha club has been signed for one game with the Aggies to be played on the local diamond Monday, April 3, Manager James Sullivan, business manager of athletics announced yesterday. The club is a member of the American Association and has been training at Victoria during the spring. Recently they have played a series of games with various clubs in the state.

BRAZOS COUNTY DISTRICT COURT IN THREE CASES

Zeb Daniels Gets Two Years—Jack King One in "Pen"—Rizepti Suspended Sentence When Justice's Wheels Grind Monday In the Brazos County District Court—Last Week of Term.

The wheels of justice, which are supposed to "turn exceedingly slow, but grind exceedingly fine" went whirling all Monday without a stop in the Brazos County District Court, and turned out three penitentiary sentences before 5 o'clock in the afternoon. A two year and a one year sentence in the penitentiary were handed down, also a two year suspended sentence. This is rapid movement for the "cumbersome machinery of court" as many picture court procedure to be.

Zeb Daniels, a negro plead guilty to felony theft and was sentenced to two years confinement in the state penitentiary before District Judge W. C. Davis Monday morning. The whole trial lasted less than two hours. Daniels confessed to having robbed the Cole Hardware Company of Bryan on the night of December 4, 1921, of fire-arms, knives and other hardware worth a total value of $192.52. County Attorney J. G. Minkert read a statement sworn to by Daniels at the time of the examining trial some weeks ago in which Daniels confessed to the robbery and said he was "sorry he done it, and wouldn't never do such a thing again." The statement recited how he had gone alone to the rear door of the hardware house at about 8 o'clock on the night named, and prided his way into the place. Wearing a large overcoat, he deposited the articles in it. In the statement he asserted that his motive was to secure money, prompted by the fact that he "was out of luck, and didn't make anything." Some three weeks ago, during the present term of the District Court Zeb Daniels was assessed a five year term in the penitentiary, having plead guilty of burglary at that time. The two year sentence given him on Monday replaces the five year term.

Jack King plead guilty to having solicited orders for sale of intoxicating liquor and was given a one year term in the "pen," the jury bringing in the verdict at 2 p.m. Monday. King was given the same sentence (one year) early in the present term of the court, for having possession of liquor.

Angelo Rizepti, an Italian boy, 17 years old, plead guilty to a charge of felony theft before the court on Monday afternoon, and the jury returned a verdict of two-year suspended sentence. Rizepti was charged with having stolen about $150 from John Nicol about November 8, 1921. Nicol runs a restaurant in Bryan. It was stated that at one time Rizepti was employed by Nicol.

The petit jury which rendered the three sentences was composed of the following: R. E. Blanton, C. P. Powers, Joe F. Hollik, J. P. Gilpin, T. D. Locke, J. C. Jones, Joe Yager, M. P. Elliott, G. W. Blanton, M. M. Erskine, R. H. Carroll and J. H. Beard. The jury was discharged Monday afternoon, to meet again Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock.

METHODIST GROUPS MEETINGS MONDAY

Groups No. 3 and No. 4 of the Woman's Methodist Missionary Society met Monday afternoon. Group No. 3 met with Mrs. W. H. Cole, Mrs. S. E. Eberstadt presiding. Mrs. W. H. Cole led the Mission Study and the following members were present: Mesdames S. E. Ebersadt, W. F. Gibbs, F. S. Dial, Madison Hall, Dave Munday, B. T. Harrison, L. E. Bailey, W. H. Cole, H. W. Cochran, C. A. Lewis, E. J. Jenkins and one new member, Mrs. W. I. Bass.

Group No. 4 met with Mrs. W. B. Cline for Mission Study. The leader Mrs. Cline made the lesson most interesting. Group No. 4 has some ideal plans for the year and members are much pleased with the progress. At the close of the lesson a social hour was enjoyed. The following members were present: Mrs. W. B. Cline, Mrs. W. L. Porter, Mrs. R. O. Allen, Mrs. J. W. Black, Mrs. J. E. Covey, Mrs. J. N. Cone, Mrs. R. J. Newland, Mrs. Bessie Lawrence, Mrs. E. G. Walker, Mrs. W. A. Deaton and Mrs. T. A. Adams.

MEMBER OF ASSOCIATED PRESS

Comptroller Lon A. Smith has announced for re-election. The Eagle is for him as he has made a splendid public official and comes under the Jeffersonian test.

The Waco News-Tribune says: "The Aggies and Bears have just about the same teams they trotted out on the diamond last season." All right. Let's go and woe unto the team that cannot play the game.

The Mineral Wells Index says: "Chickens Must Not Be Allowed to Run at Large," reads a headline in the Brenham Banner-Press. Meanin' which kind, Mr. Neu?" The Eagle is willing to leave it to Mayor Tyler Haswell of Bryan.

Mexia has a "Gun Club." We can not imagine our friend Sunshine Joe Webb, of the Waco Times-Tribune as being a secret member of this club and will not believe it until we are convinced of it beyond even a reasonable doubt.

President Cole and Secretary Eberstadt, backed by a loyal board of directors and an enthusiastic membership have made success of the Bryan Building and Loan Association during the past year. The good work will continue.

North Zulch will soon realize the advantage of having a newspaper to announce to the world its advantages. Boost the paper now and it can the better boost the town when it has great interests at stake.—Christian Commonwealth.

No girl can graduate at Ennis, Texas, if her dress costs more than $10. But how will a $10 dress look with a $25 hat, $16 pumps and $10 stockings, to not mention the expensive unmentionables?—Austin American.

The Austin American says: "The first chicken ruined the first man's garden." You mean the man Adam declared it was the woman Eve who caused the trouble in the Garden of Eden. Adam was perhaps the same fool in those days as many men are in these days. Perhaps.

There are too many relief commissions in the world and not enough work and production going on. In due season the nation or people that is not thrifty and productive will perish. Russia and all other degenerate nations might as well face the issue. They should quit begging and go to work.

Anyhow Arkansaw will not get part of Texas according to the ruling of the Supreme Court of the United States. Once we were talking with Governor Chas. H. Brough of Arkansas and he said his state was only one ever mentioned specifically in the Bible. He said that when the Ark arrived on Mt. Ararat: "Noah looked out of the Arkandsaw."

Editor Jno. E. Davis of the Mesquite, and representative of Dallas County says: "The Mesquiter gives space below to a reverent tribute to prayer, by Editor Lee J. Rountree of the Bryan Daily Eagle. We cut out some editorials to get this in for we did not believe we could write anything as fine as this article and our editorials can wait."

John Smitherman, a negro and John Smithson, a white man were placed in the county jail at Tulsa, Oklahoma, to protect them from being whipped. We are opposed to mob law. But we will suggest to the officers in Oklahoma that if they had done their duty and had Smitherman and Smithson in jail for the crimes they had already committed they would not have been whipped in the first place. The Oklahoma officers ought to get a new vision of their duty.

THAT MEXIA "GUN CLUB."

A message from Austin states that Governor Neff will be in Mexia tomorrow to confer with the people regarding conditions here and in the near by oil fields. The Evening News presumes to speak for the law abiding people of this community when it throws down the gauntlet to the "Gun Club" who threatened the governor with a coat of tar and feathers should he ever come to Mexia again. Mr. "Gun Club," Gov. Neff is coming and loyal Mexia dares you to attempt to carry out your threat.—Mexia Evening News.

Nick, generally when the rough necks and gutter rats continue such pranks as this and get whipped or tarred and feathered they whine and whimper about it and some judges, newspapers and preachers shed crocodile tears over them and every crook, hijacker and criminal thinks they have a friend in court and they go on with their lawlessness. We are opposed to whipping but we are also opposed to criminals, crooks and hijackers threatening the governor of Texas. Let's begin on the right line to stop the crime that is sweeping over Texas.

Billdad's Tribute to Citizens of Robertson and Brazos Counties

(Billdad in Hearne Democrat)

Wheelock, Robertson County, Texas, March 18.—Miss Flora Cameron, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ellen Cameron, who was born and grew to young womanhood in Wheelock, died on March 5th at the home of Mrs. Kate Hedrick, who lives at Rosebud in Falls county, Texas, to which place Miss Flora and a sister had moved some six months ago. Her remains were interred in the Wheelock cemetery on the afternoon of the 7th instant, the services being conducted by the Rev. Sholl, a Presbyterian minister from Bryan, and Rev. Wester, a Baptist minister from Rosebud. The parents of Miss Flora were pioneer citizens of our section, her father, Dr. Jno. Cameron, being an eminent physician. He was a graduate of the universities of Glasgow and Edinburgh, Scotland, and was recognized as one of the most highly educated citizens of Central Texas during his lifetime. She is survived by one sister, Miss Margaret, and three brothers, Prof. Donald Cameron, who is a teacher in the University of Boston, Mass., and Mr. Allen for short hours and a full dinner pail.

Mrs. Mattie Park and son, Thomas, have left to join her husband, Mr. Sam Park, at Mount Calm, Hill county, Texas. While Mrs. Park's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Hedrick, regret so much the necessity of the move, yet are consoled by the fact of their going into a splendid community where they will be enabled to build up a nice business.

With the Tall Sycamore of the Brazos, J. Felton Lane, seated in the legislative halls of Texas from Robertson county, and that patriotic and progressive Lee J. Rountree of Brazos county gracing the halls of congress from this congressional district, the good citizenship of the two counties would feel like they had again come into their own with such unselfish and honorable representatives. Our hopes would again strive for the fulfillment of the creeds of our forefathers, where honesty, equality and sterling integrity were the watch words that lead them by day, and lighted their pathway by night. With visions of our hopes' fulfillment I would say with that great poet:

"God give us men: A time like this demands

Strong minds, great hearts,

true faith and ready hands;

Men whom the lust of office does not kill,

Men whom the spoils of office can not buy;

Men who possess opinions and a will;

Men who have honor, men who will not lie;

Men who can stand before a demagogue

And dam his treacherous flat-

teries without winking.

Tall men, sun-crowned who live above the fog,

In public duty and in private thinking."

For such men as these there

s' always demand and under this head comes Felton Lane of

Robertson and Lee Rountree, of Brazos.

TRIBUTE TO A BRAZOS COUNTY CITIZEN.

(Editor J. S. Robinson in Jewett Messenger)

Representative Lee J. Rountree, of Bryan, has been favorably mentioned for Congress from this district by leading men from all parts of Texas. Representative Rountree is a big man in Texas and has demonstrated that fact, but not an office-seeker. The people of his county drafted him to the Legislature, and now it seems that people of this district are going to send him to Congress. The writer has known Lee Rountree a long time and we are safe in saying that there is not a brainier or cleaner man in Texas and has given unselfish work to the service of this state.

THE GROUND HOG WILL COME FORTH AGAIN IN BRAZOS COUNTY

During the recent Christmas holidays a little tot in Bryan told us he believed in Santa Claus, provided Santa Claus did the right thing. In other words if he made good, in the case of the Great American Ground Hog he has certainly made good. He came out of his lair on February 2 and 8:30 o'clock in the morning and saw his shadow fall across the earth and remained six weeks—today is the end of his imprisonment—March 16. Under the edict of the Ground Hog winter is over and spring is here. We have practically had winter up to the present time. It is reported warmer tomorrow by the Weather Bureau. Thunder came on February 27th which calls for frost on April 16th unless these things defeat the purposes of the Ground Hog spring is here and gardens and vegetation will boom.

John Smitherman, a negro and John Smithson, a white man were placed in the county jail at Tulsa, Oklahoma, to protect them from being whipped. We are opposed to mob law. But we will suggest to the officers in Oklahoma that if they had done their duty and had Smitherman and Smithson in jail for the crimes they had already committed they would not have been whipped in the first place. The Oklahoma officers ought to get a new vision of their duty.

BIG NEWSPAPERS LOSE THEIR INFLUENCE

(J. T. Webster, Jr., in The Paradox)

Quite a bit of comment has been going the rounds of the Trade Journals and Independent Magazines of the U. S. lately regarding the how and why of the Big Business Press losing their influence on their readers and the public at large, both as molders of public opinion editorially and their ability to lead it by means of "Colored" news. Hon. Theodore H. Price devoted a full page of his matchless "Commerce and Finance" to the discussion of this problem, which he seemed to recognize as existing in an aggravating and alarming degree. He made some pertinent comment as to some of the causes of this strange come-to-pass, and suggested lines of conduct for the big boys to recover their prestige, now dimmed.

The overwhelming victory at the New York City polls of Mayor Hylan, who was opposed by nearly all the Metropolitan Press, gave point to Mr. Price's views, and drew general attention to the sad calamity which has befallen the Fourth Estate. But even Mr. Price failed to go deep enough into first causes. The bottom of the thing is largely thus: So much money has been spent during the past twenty or thirty years, particularly during the past ten, in educating the common people that they have begun to be able to think for themselves, and are in a manner in revolt against the leadership of the Big Press, now reading independent magazines which go into the true inwardness of events and expose them to public gaze, like as Commerce and Finance and the Paradox do.

The political upset which threw the Democrats out in 1920 was not a Republican Victory, but the urge of the common folk for a change. The pendulum is swinging back now, and if the Republican Old Guard and their cohorts are overthrown in 1924 it will be a Democratic Victory only in so far as Democracy has followed the people during the past four years, out of the wilderness. While the people thought they had had enough of Woodrow Wilson because of conditions which Mr. Wilson had no control over, they now evidently appreciate most of his principles, as witness the demonstrations of great esteem in which he is held by the masses given him time and again in recent months, and the spontaneous growth of the League of Nations idea everywhere.

But let us return to the Big Newspapers of the land, and take in our opinion about the finest of the whole lot, the Morning News of Dallas, Texas, for illustration. It is one of the cleanest and greatest journals in the whole country, as to contents, general policy and intentions. Reliable and fearless in every respect, until something arises which its big advertisers or backers want pushed or hushed, boosted or downed. Then it is as biased as an old-fashioned elderly lady against new-fangled ideas, and that is some bias. Behold the Ku Klux Klan.

The News never lets up on the Ku Kluxers. It is going to find this experience similar to one enjoyed by the editor of the Paradox some months ago, when he carelessly dropped a lighted match in a big grass patch adjoining his garage one morning. It was during a long dry spell, and the editor was thoughtfully scanning the Heavens for rain signs while he absent-mindedly lit a cigar. Hearing a peculiar crackling sound at his heels and feeling an undue warmth, he glanced down to see a ring of fire around his feet the size of a small foot-tub. A desperate side-sweeping kick to quench the blazing grass only spread the flames broadcast in the vicinity and a busy time ensued, which might have resulted in a general conflagration and the burning of the whole end of town if his wife had not seen the mounting flames from a back window of the residence and hastily called the fire department to his assistance. So with the News and the Ku Klux. Kicking will not quench that fire either, and it had best lay off the Klans unless it wants to see the Order of K. K. K.'s spread all over everywhere, and the whole State of Texas and the entire Southwest ablaze with fiery crosses, and no fire department to come to the aid of the News.

The little local newspapers, the "Country Press," as a rule escape this mental attitude of their readers, having more influence in their respective bailiwicks, editorially, as swayers of public sentiment and as political "Throne Shaker" than the biggest newspaper from the city that comes in to mix it with them.

For instance, the Bryan Eagle, edited by Lee J. Rountree, is not only a dandy local daily, from a mechanical standpoint, but well and ably edited, and doubtless has more influence at home than any of his Big Press competitors. It is generally believed he has gone to the bottom of the question and knows what he is talking about and is ready with the proof.

The Victoria Fact is another live local paper, and is always full of interesting matter, even to a stranger. The editor of the Paradox knows something of Victoria and the surrounding country. He autoed around there considerable in August, 1914, and found more good roads radiating from that pretty town than from almost any other city in Texas.

Also we mention the Jefferson Jimplecute, and the Upshur County Echo of Gilmer, Texas. Both these are in a sense "home papers" to us, and we can share their community joys and woes without the use of radiophones. They are full of meat and good sense, even when they are forced to resort to platitudinous language.

The Farm Union Labor News, published at Bonham, Texas, is a go-getter. From what one may gather by reading its news columns and reports of organization, from the various locals and organizers, The Farm Labor Unions will be a force to be reckoned with in the next election and the way of the reactionary, standpat for privilege politicians will be rocky and filled with tribulation.

But once more the News: Whether or not its editorial influence in general has waned, no one can accuse it of lack of nerve or poise. It lights in and lambasts something or somebody, arousing a lot of comment, and then opens its columns wide for everybody that has a decently worded opinion to express in print, with no regard whether said opinion is taking the News bitterly to task or commanding it for some stand. We call that fair's fair, and aboveboard, but few newspapers in the world have the courage and stamina to take that sort of punishment along with its praise. This has ever been the way of the News, and even its enemies, (among which the Paradox is not numbered) admire it for this, and give it credit for playing fair. In fact, all the News needs to hold its own is to each day turn one column or two, unreservedly, over to some editor that digs into things, and let him sail into and expose any and everything he wants to, for the benefit of the masses, holding themselves unresponsive as long as he works under his own signature and does not break laws that would get owners into courthouse or jail, or himself in the morgue. Constructive criticism and kicking from an independent and original source goes a lot further than unknown editorials with unknown influences behind them. Then the usual editorials could be well placed as space fillers, and all would be happy, satisfied and life one glad sweet song for everybody but that unfortunate editor, who would have the time of his life in the uplift of Muckraking De Luxe.

The funeral was held at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Steep Hollow at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, with Rev. Father J. B. Gleissner officiating. Interment will be made in the Catholic cemetery of Bryan.

DRAMATIC SCENE TAKES PLACE AT CRIMM MEETING

Four Hooded Klansmen Visit Tabernacle and Present Letter of Endorsement and $75 Token Rev. Crimm Accepts and Roundly Applauded.

Just as Rev. B. B. Crimm, who has for two weeks been conducting the revival meeting at the Tabernacle, arrived from College Station where he preached at 6:30 to the students and faculty of A. and M. College and began making his usual announcement before the Sunday evening service to a congregation of about 2,500 people, four hooded members of the Ku Klux Klan entered the middle west door of the Tabernacle which is presided over by Jess Conlee and the spectacular figures marched down the middle aisle and stopped in front of the platform where about 200 singers are grouped behind the speaker's stand and singing under the direction of A. W. McKee. Supreme silence pervaded the Tabernacle as Rev. Crimm paused in the middle of a sentence. The first Klansman stood in line and drew from his pocket a large envelope and presented it to Rev. Crimm who broke the seal and read the following message under the seal

"Bryan, Texas, March 19, 1922.

Rev. B. B. Crimm, Bryan, Texas.

"Dear Sir: Acknowledging a Supreme Being as exemplified through the Protestant religion and its teachings through the blood of Jesus Christ, we the members of Bryan Ku Klux Klan No. 48 beg to hand you the enclosed free-will offering. This organization stands for the Christian religion, white supremacy, separation of church and state, free press, free speech, upholding the Constitution and the laws of the land, sanctity of the home, and the purity of womanhood and manhood.

"Men whom the lust of office does not kill,

"Men whom the spoils of office can not buy,

"Men who possess opinions and a will;

"Men who have honor, men who will not lie."

We will stand for our blood

Comptroller Lon A. Smith has announced for re-election. The Eagle is for him as he has made a splendid public official and comes under the Jeffersonian test.

The Waco News-Tribune says: "The Aggies and Bears have just about the same teams they trotted out on the diamond last season." All right, let's go and woe unto the team that cannot play the game.

The Mineral Wells Index says: "Chickens Must Not Be Allowed to Run at Large," reads a headline in the Brenham Banner-Press. Meanin' which kind, Mr. Neu?" The Eagle is willing to leave it to Mayor Tyler Haswell of Bryan.

Mexia has a "Gun Club." We can't imagine our friend Sunshine Joe Webb, of the Waco Times-Tribune as being a secret member of this club and will not believe it until we are convinced of it beyond even a reasonable doubt.

President Cole and Secretary Eberstadt, backed by a loyal board of directors and an enthusiastic membership have made success of the Bryan Building and Loan Association during the past year. The good work will continue.

North Zulch will soon realize the advantage of having a newspaper to announce to the world its advantages. Boost the paper now and it can the better boost the town when it has great interests at stake.—Christian Commonwealth.

No girl can graduate at Ennis, Texas, if her dress costs more than $10. But how will a $10 dress look with a $25 hat, $16 pumps and $10 stockings, to not mention the expensive unmentionables?—Austin American.

The Austin American says: "The first chicken ruined the first man's garden." You mean the man Adam declared it was the woman Eve who caused the trouble in the Garden of Eden. Adam was perhaps the same fool in those days as many men are in these days. Perhaps.

There are too many relief commissions in the world and not enough work and production going on. In due season the nation or people that is not thrifty and productive will perish. Russia and all other degenerate nations might as well face the issue. They should quit begging and go to work.

Anyhow Arkansas will not get part of Texas according to the ruling of the Supreme Court of the United States. Once we were talking with Governor Chas. H. Brough of Arkansas and he said his state was only one ever mentioned specifically in the Bible. He said that when the Ark arrived on Mt. Ararat: "Noah looked out of the Arkandsaw."

Editor Jno. E. Davis of the Mesquite Mesquiter, and representative of Dallas County says: "The Mesquiter gives space below to a reverent tribute to prayer." By Editor Lee J. John Smitherman, a negro and John Smithson, a white man were placed in the county jail at Tulsa, Oklahoma, to protect them from being whipped. We are opposed to mob law. But we will suggest to the officers in Oklahoma that if they had done their duty and had Smitherman and Smithson in jail for the crimes they had already committed they would not have been whipped in the first place. The Oklahoma officers ought to get a new vision of their duty.

THAT MEXIA "GUN CLUB."

A message from Austin states that Governor Neff will be in Mexia tomorrow to confer with the people regarding conditions here and in the near by oil fields. The Evening News presumes to speak for the law abiding people of this community when it throws down the gauntlet to the "Gun Club" who threatened the governor with a coat of tar and feathers should he ever come to Mexia again. Mr. "Gun Club," Gov. Neff is coming and loyal Mexia dares you to attempt to carry out your threat.—Mexia Evening News.

Nick, generally when the rough necks and gutter rats continue such pranks as this and get whipped or tarred and feathered they whine and whimper about it and some judges, newspapers and preachers shed crocodile tears over them and every crook, hijacker and criminal thinks they have a friend in court and they go on with their lawlessness. We are opposed to whipping but we are also opposed to criminals, crooks and hijackers threatening the governor of Texas. Let's begin on the right line to stop the crime that is sweeping over Texas.

Billdad's Tribute to Citizens of Robertson and Brazos Counties

(Billdad in Hearne Democrat)

Wheclock, Robertson County, Texas, March 18.—Miss Flora Cameron, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ellen Cameron, who was born and grew to young womanhood in Wheclock, died on March 5th at the home of Mrs. Kate Hedrick, who lives at Rosebud in Falls county, Texas, to which place Miss Flora and a sister had moved some six months ago. Her remains were interred in the Wheclock cemetery on the afternoon of the 7th instant, the services being conducted by the Rev. Sholl, a Presbyterian minister from Bryan, and Rev. Wester, a Baptist minister from Rosebud. The parents of Miss Flora were pioneer citizens of our section, her father, Dr. Jno. Cameron, being an eminent physician. He was a graduate of the universities of Glasgow and Edinburgh, Scotland, and was recognized as one of the most highly educated citizens of Central Texas during his lifetime. She is survived by one sister, Miss Margaret, and three brothers, Prof. Donald Cameron, who is a teacher in the University of Boston, Mass., and Mr. Allen and Mr. Paul Cameron, who reside at Houston, Texas.

Judge W. G. Curry is chock full of smiles now over the arrival of a new grand-daughter at the home of Prof. and Mrs. R. L. Eaves at Waco. By reason of the appointed coming of this new addition to the family upon the birthday of its grandmother, the Judge regards it as being a splendid omen as to the future of the little Miss, and doubly satisfactory to himself during these piping times of plenty, as he knows "Old Miss" (Mrs. Curry) will accept the grand baby as a birthday present, which will save him the embarrassment of trying to get up a reasonably good one for her. And as its all in the family he's going to share the affections of the grand daughter with her.

With the Tall Sycamore of the Brazos, J. Felton Lane, seated in the legislative halls of Texas from Robertson county, and that patriotic and progressive Lee J. Rountree of Brazos county gracing the halls of congress from this congressional district, the good citizenship of the two counties would feel like they had again come into their own with such unselfish and honorable representatives. Our hopes would again strive for the fulfillment of the creeds of our forefathers, where honesty, equality and sterling integrity were the watch words that lead them by day, and lighted their pathway by night. With visions of our hopes' fulfillment I would say with that great poet:

"God give us men: A time like this demands
Strong minds, great hearts,
true faith and ready hands;
Men whom the lust of office does not kill,
Men whom the spoils of office can not buy;
Men who possess opinions and a will;
Men who have honor, men who will not lie;
Men who can stand before a demagogue
And damn his treacherous flat-tories without winking.
Tall men, sun-crowned who live above the fog,
In public duty and in private thinking."

For such men as these there's always demand and under this head comes Felton Lane of Robertson and Lee Rountree, of Brazos.

TRIBUTE TO A BRAZOS COUNTY CITIZEN.

(Editor J. S. Robinson in Jewett Messenger)

Representative Lee J. Rountree, of Bryan, has been favorably mentioned for Congress from this district by leading men from all parts of Texas. Representative Rountree is a big man in Texas and has demonstrated that fact, but not an office-seeker. The people of his county drafted him to the Legislature, and now it seems that people of this district are going to send him to Congress. The writer has known Lee Rountree a long time and we are safe in saying that there is not a brainier or cleaner man in Texas and has given unselfish work to the service of this state.

MISS VICTORIA A. DOMINIK DECEASED

Miss Victoria A. Dominik, 24 years, 8 months and 21 days old, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dominik of Steep Hollow died at her home Thursday afternoon at 5:45 o'clock. She was born and reared in Brazos county and attended school at Steep Hollow. She was a devout member of the Catholic church and had many friends. She is survived by her mother and father, three sisters, Misses Rosa, Tracy and Annie Dominik, two brothers, Louis and Peter Dominik, all of Steep Hollow.

The funeral was held at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Steep Hollow at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, with Rev. Father J. B. Gleissner officiating. Interment will be made in the Catholic cemetery of Bryan.

IVANHOE COMMANDERY INSTALLS OFFICERS FOR ENSUING YEAR

MISS CROSSE MAKES EXAMINATION OF CHILDREN

Ivanhoe Commandery No. 8, Knights Templar held annual installation of officers at the Masonic Temple Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. P. S. Park, grand standard-bearer and W. E. Saunders, marshal, installed the following officers for the ensuing year: W. W. Kraft, senior warden; H. S. Locke, junior warden; H. M. Milton Jr., standard bearer; J. W. Payne, sword bearer; E. W. Price, warden, and D. P. Dansby, sentinel. The commandery will hold Easter services at the Methodist church in Hearne on Easter Sunday at 8:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

BIG NEWSPAPERS LOSE THEIR INFLUENCE

(J. T. Webster, Jr., in The Paradox)

Quite a bit of comment has been going the rounds of the Trade Journals and Independent Magazines of the U. S. lately regarding the how and why of the Big Business Press losing their influence on their readers and the public at large, both as molders of public opinion editorially and their ability to lead it by means of "Colored" news. Hon. Theodore H. Price devoted a full page of his matchless "Commerce and Finance" to the discussion of this problem, which he seemed to recognize as existing in an aggravating and alarming degree. He made some pertinent comment as to some of the causes of this strange come-to-pass, and suggested lines of conduct for the big boys to recover their prestige, now dimmed.

The overwhelming victory at the New York City polls of Major Hyland, who was opposed by nearly all the Metropolitan Press, gave point to Mr. Price's views, and drew general attention to the sad calamity which has befallen the Fourth Estate. But even Mr. Price failed to go deep enough into first causes. The bottom of the thing is largely thus: So much money has been spent during the past twenty or thirty years, particularly during the past ten, in educating the common people that they have begun to be able to think for themselves, and are in a manner in revolt against the leadership of the Big Press, now reading independent magazines which go into the true inwardness of events and expose them to public gaze, like as Commerce and Finance and the Paradox do.

The political upset which threw the Democrats out in 1920 was not a Republican Victory, but the urge of the common folk for a change. The pendulum is swinging back now, and if the Republican Old Guard and their cohorts are overthrown in 1924 it will be a Democratic Victory only in so far as Democracy has followed the people during the past four years, out of the wilderness. While the people thought they had had enough of Woodrow Wilson because of conditions which Mr. Wilson had no control over, they now evidently appreciate most of his principles, as witness the demonstrations of great esteem in which he is held by the masses given him time and again in recent months, and the spontaneous growth of the League of Nations idea everywhere.

But let us return to the Big Newspapers of the land, and take in our opinion about the finest of the whole lot, the Morning News of Dallas, Texas, for illustration. It is one of the cleanest and greatest journals in the whole country, as to contents, general policy and intentions. Reliable and fearless in every respect, until something arises which its big advertisers or backers want pushed or hushed, boosted or downed. Then it is as biased as an old-fashioned elderly lady against new-fangled ideas, and that is some bias. Behold the Ku Klux, for example.

The News never lets up on the Ku Kluxers. It is going to find this experience similar to one enjoyed by the editor of the Paradox some months ago, when he carelessly dropped a lighted match in a big grass patch adjoining his garage one morning. It was during a long dry spell, and the editor was thoughtfully scanning the Heavens for rain signs while he absent-mindedly lit a cigar. Hearing a peculiar crackling sound at his heels and feeling an undue warmth, he glanced down to see a ring of fire around his feet the size of a small foot-tub. A desperate side-sweeping kick to quench the blazing grass only spread the flames broadcast in the vicinity and a busy time ensued, which might have resulted in a general conflagration and the burning of the whole end of town if his wife had not seen the mounting flames from a back window of the residence and hastily called the fire department to his assistance. So with the News and the Ku Klux. Kicking will not quench that fire either, and it had best lay off the Klans unless it wants to see the Order of K. K. S. spread all over everywhere, and the whole State of Texas and the entire Southwest ablaze with fiery crosses, and no fire department to come to the aid of the News.

The little local newspapers, the "Country Press," as a rule escape this mental attitude of their readers, having more influence in their respective bailiwicks, editorially, as swayers of public sentiment and as political "Throne Shaker" than the biggest newspaper from the city that comes in to mix it with them.

For instance, the Bryan Eagle, edited by Lee J. Rountree, is not only a dandy local daily, from a mechanical standpoint, but well and ably edited, and doubtless has more influence at home than any of his Big Press competitors. It is generally believed he has gone to the bottom of the question and knows what he is talking about and is ready with the proof.

The Victoria Fact is another live local paper, and is always full of interesting matter, even to a stranger. The editor of the Paradox knows something of Victoria and the surrounding country. He autoed around there considerable in August, 1914, and found more good roads radiating from that pretty town than from almost any other city in Texas.

Also we mention the Jefferson Jimplecute, and the Upshur County Echo, of Gilmer, Texas. Both these are in sense "home papers" to us, and we can share their community joys and woes without the use of radiophones. They are full of meat and good sense, even when they are forced to resort to plate matter as they use discretion and discrimination even there.

The Farm Union Labor News, published at Bonham, Texas, is a go-getter. From what one may gather by reading its news columns and reports of organization, from the various locals and organizers, The Farm Labor Unions will be a force to be reckoned with in the next election and the way of the reactionary, standpat for privilege politicians will be rocky and filled with tribulation.

But once more the News: Whether or not its editorial influence in general has waned, no one can accuse it of lack of nerve or poise. It lights in and lambasts something or somebody, arousing a lot of comment, and then opens its columns wide for everybody that has a decently worded opinion to express in print, with no regard whether said opinion is taking the News bitterly to task or commanding it for some stand. We call that fair's fair, and aboveboard, but few newspapers in the world have the courage and stamina to take that sort of punishment along with its praise. This has ever been the way of the News, and even its enemies, (among which the Paradox is not numbered) admire it for this, and give it credit for playing fair. In fact, all the News needs to hold its own is to each day turn one column or two, unreservedly, over to some editor that digs into things, and let him sail into and expose any and everythings he wants to, for the benefit of the masses, holding themselves irresponsible so long as he works under his own signature and does not break laws that would get owners into courthouse or jail, or himself in the morgue. Constructive criticism and kicking from an independent and original source goes a lot further than unknown editorials with unknown influences behind them. Then the usual editorials could be well placed as space fillers, and all would be happy, satisfied and life one glad sweet song for everybody but that unfortunate editor, who would have the time of his life in the Uplift of Muckraking De Luxe.

DRAMATIC SCENE TAKES PLACE AT CRIMM MEETING

Four Hooded Klansmen Visit Tabernacle and Present Letter of Endorsement and $75 Token Rev. Crimme Accepts and Roundly Applauded.

Just as Rev. B. B. Crimme, who has for two weeks been conducting the revival meeting at the Tabernacle, arrived from College Station where he preached at 6:30 to the students and faculty of A. and M. College and began making his usual announcement before the Sunday evening service to a congregation of about 2,500 people, four hooded members of the Ku Klux Klan entered the middle west door of the Tabernacle which is presided over by Jess Conlee and the spectacular figures marched down the middle aisle and stopped in front of the platform where about 200 singers are grouped behind the speaker's stand and sing under the direction of A. W. McKee. Supreme silence pervaded the Tabernacle as Rev. Crimme paused in the middle of a sentence. The first Klansman stood in line and drew from his pocket a large envelope and presented it to Rev. Crimme who broke the seal and read the following message under the seal

"Bryan, Texas, March 19, 1922.

Rev. B. B. Crimme, Bryan, Texas.

"Dear Sir: Acknowledging a Supreme Being as exemplified through the Protestant religion and its teachings through the blood of Jesus Christ, we the members of Bryan Ku Klux Klan No. 48 beg to hand you the enclosed free-will offering. This organization stands for the Christian religion, white supremacy, separation of church and state, free press, free speech, upholding the Constitution and the laws of the land, sanctity of the home, and the purity of womanhood and manhood.

"God give us men; a time like this demands, Men whom the lust of office does not kill, Men whom the spoils of office can not buy, Men who possess opinions and a will; Men who have honor, men who will not lie. We will stand for our blood and it is not pledged in vain."

(Signed) "BRYAN KLAN NO. 48,

"Realm of Texas, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan."

When Rev. Crimme read the letter amid the deepest silence the applause swept the entire congregation. The figures in the full regalia of the Ku Klux Klan silently waited and Rev. Crimme prayed a fervent prayer declaring that the God of nations witnessed this scene and that it was one of those things that stand out for courage, manhood to make America a greater America and "that righteousness exalteth a nation." He accepted the token in the spirit it was tendered by the organization of 100 per cent Americans. It was a remarkable and a dramatic scene. The four figures then faced about and marched out of the building silently as they came. They entered an automobile and disappeared in the night. It was stated that in addition to the message printed above the envelope contained $75 in U. S. currency. Rev. Crimme preached his sermon Sunday night following the preliminaries on the subject: "Prepare To Meet God" and 29 persons came forward and joined the various churches in Bryan making a total of 230 for the meeting which will continue during this week when Rev. Crimme will go to Cleveland, Ohio, and hold a meeting at the Euclid Avenue Baptist church which is known throughout the country as the John D. Rockefeller church. This will be Rev. Crimme's first revival north of the Mason and Dixon line as he is one of the youngest successful revivalists in the United States.

When Rev. Crimme made the call Sunday night at the conclusion of his powerful appeal (being the fourth of the day) for men and women to come and pledge themselves to God and a better life J. E. Covey went to the platform and declared he was ready to come back to God. He wandered away amid the strife and conflicts of life but wanted to acknowledge his sins and unite again with the Methodist church. Many in the congregation were visibly affected. Other men came forward.

Rev. Crimme made one of the most powerful appeals ever heard in Bryan. Many came forward including stalwart men, young men and A. and M. College students, women and children. Thus closed a great day in Bryan and Brazos county.

DE DUCKS" GOT IT.

A South Missouri negro tenant farmer says "de ducks" got his crop. He went to the banker to borrow some money. That individual asked what he did with his corn money. "De ducks got it, sah," was the reply. The banker asked for an explanation—and got it thus: "Ah shipped dat cawn to market and Ah deduck de freight charges and dat leaves me 41 cents, and den Ah deducks sellin' commission and dat leaves me 40 cents; and den Ah deduck elevatuh charges and dat leave me 35 cents. Ah deducks 15 cents for huskin' and 10 cents fo' shellin' and a nickel fo' haulin' and leaves me a nickel to feed mah hoss. De dam ducks got, it, dat's all." And it is "De Ducks" that likewise prevent many merchants from being successful—count your "Ducks"—Exchange.

ELOQUENT APPEAL FOR STARVING ARMENIANS BY MRS. ANNA WALLER

Mrs. Anna Waller of the Near East Relief campaign made touching and sympathetic appeal for funds which will help rehabilitate Armenia and provide bread for the starving inhabitants of that stricken European country, before the congregation of St. Andrew's Episcopal church Sunday morning, at the 11 o'clock service. Mrs. Waller told in a forceful way of the great amount of good being done by Americans in Armenia, in the "shadows of Mount Ararat, from which country we secured this religion which you come here this morning to worship." She used one masterful figure of speech when she said: "Can you imagine the loftiness of Mt. Ararat, with its everlasting snows on the summit, 17,000 feet high? Then invert this, and the subterranean depths its summit would reach in the earth's bowels can not compare with the depth of homelessness and desperation of the disease-ridden, starving Armenians. The Turk has done all in his power to exterminate them. All the Armenian men have been killed in battle with the Turk. The women and children of the nation have been tortured and disgraced beyond Christian endurance.

"Armenia is a Christian nation, it is not asking for alms, it is asking only for support until it can rebuild its cities, cure its people of the horrible diseases now holding them down, and the chance to work out its own salvation. America is the richest nation on the earth today, and to her this people is pleading. There is one bright spot in Armenia, however, that is the hospital and school supported by Americans, and run by an American college girl, Anna Holt. She is protected from the Turk by an American cruiser, which is always to be seen in the Turkish waters off Armenia."

Mr. John A. Moore, is chairman of the Near East Relief committee in Bryan, and the campaign to raise $2,000, Bryan's share in this nation-wide drive starts today. Every one able to do so is requested to give money for this cause, which is a worthy one. A ship now being loaded with Texas wheat and clothes contributed by Texas people will sail from Houston in April for Armenia, the Lone Star State's contribution to a great purpose. The pastors of the different churches of Bryan mentioned the Armenia Relief drive from the pulpits Sunday, and every business house, and each individual citizen of this city will be called on for his contribution.

Dr. Dixie Tucker, director for Central Texas of the relief work spoke at the First Methodist church Sunday morning and Sunday night addressed congregations at the Baptist tabernacle and the Presbyterian church. Mrs. A. W. Koch spoke at the Christian church Sunday School and at the Free Baptist church. Both Father J. B. Gleissner and Rev. P. Litwora spoke on the necessity of the cause at St. Joseph's and St. Anthony's Catholic churches.

CHAMBER COMMERCE MEETING ON TUESDAY

BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB DEPT.

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

Mr. Carl Wipprecht, an enterprising young dairyman of Bryan, left the following interesting item on the county agent's desk: "The March 1, 1922, copy of the Jersey Bulletin, the National Jersey Cattle Magazine, has just reached this office and once more tells us that good dairy cows exist in Texas and Brazos county. This issue of the Bulletin gives the results of official testing of Jerseys for December 1921. Out of the near 10,000 cows of official test in U. S. only 720 made over 50 pounds of butter fat in December. In the various classes they were divided: Under two years old seven cows; junior two year old 45 cows; senior two year old, 37 cows; junior three year old, 55; senior three year old, 60; junior four year old, 88; senior four year old, 77; aged cows (over five years old), 351. Of this 720 had only 57 animals that were owned in 14 different herds, 37 being in the Lasater herd. In the junior four year old class where there were 88 cows that made over 50 pounds of butter fat, Brazos county is represented, in the 29th cow, in the list by Foxhall's Fair Lady of Bryan, 43591 with a production of 60.4 pounds of butter fat for December." Foxhall's Fair Lady is owned by Mr. Wipprecht who reports that he expects four of his cows to qualify for the 50 pound list during the month of March.

On last Thursday Secretary S. E. Eberstadt and County Agent C. L. Beason enjoyed a luncheon with the Harvey Boys' and Girls' Club. While the visitors and club members enjoyed the fine eats, country ham, chicken, sausage, eggs, pies, preserves, cakes, etc., club plans for the year were discussed, especial attention being called to the opportunity for club members to improve crop production, study seed selection, self improvement, community betterment, and last but not least the privilege of competing for the many prizes offered club members in Texas. Prof. C. E. Bobo, Harvey Club leader, is determined to put the Harvey Club to the front this year.

The "union dinner" or luncheon idea is growing in popularity among the club members of the county. County Agent Beason proposed that as long as the schools were in session the club meeting be held at the noon hour in order to accommodate boys and girls who had had to quit school but who could attend meeting at the noon hour and lose no time from their farm work. Harvey, Edge and College clubs have already adopted this plan, Harvey meeting every first and third Thursday, Edge club meeting every first and third Friday, and College club meeting every first and third Mondays.

The story of Lucile Rosprin's poultry work brings quick results. The Edge Club members sending last Saturday for the settings of the Barred Rocks mentioned in Lucile's project. Let us know now what you will have for sale and what you will likely need to purchase next fall, or later on. Not always possible to get seller and purchaser together over night.

Let us know now what you will have for sale and what you will likely need to purchase next fall, or later on. Not always possible to get seller and purchaser together over night.

On last Friday District Agent A. W. Buchanan and County Agent C. L. Beason attended the boys and girls club meeting at Edge, where luncheon was served promptly at 12 o'clock, during which time club projects were discussed. More than 50 club members were present at the meeting, all anxious not only to share in the good eats which had been prepared for this special occasion, but also anxious to learn something that would be helpful to them in their respective club projects, the growing of corn, cotton, peanuts, raising poultry, livestock, etc. Johnnie Payne, the club president, called the meeting to order and asked that the time for discussion be given to the visitors present. County Agent Beason had stopped by the Tabor Club for five "veteran" club members, to accompany the party to Edge and give instruction and inspiration to the newly organized club at that place. The club members from the Tabor Club, Miss Una Edge, president; Miss Mary Ruth Holden, secretary; Miss Hettie Francis, reporter; Ben Frank Ammons, yell leader; "Jack" Francis, "rooter," showed the Edge Club members how to put on yell with a pep in them. Miss Edge upon being introduced to the neighboring club remarked that she and her associates were delighted to make the visit and share in the hospitality which had been shown them, but she also desired to know that the only reason the Tabor Club would not again win the talking machine was because the Tabor Club is barred from the contest. Then Mr. Buchanan told the club members present of the interest in club work throughout his district and how they all wanted to hear the story of the work which had been done by the Tabor Club, the record of which last year will inspire 20,000 boys and girls to greater achievements this year throughout the great State of Texas. He said he had rather be the winner of the State club championship this year than to receive any other honor, because the story of the noble achievement would be heralded round the world. At the Edge club luncheon Friday County Agent Beason seeing super abundance of eats in the spread, and observing no school pig to take care of the waste, offered a large stick of barber pole candy to the boy who would eat the most dinner. Mrs. Mae Steveren Wilson, P. S. Mangum, and A. W. Buchanan were appointed judges to make observations and award the prize accordingly. Several boys were observed to be loosening up their belts, and for a long time it looked as if Joe Stroud and George Leigham would have to draw straws for the prize, but the judges unanimously decided that Miss Pauline Beard had outdistanced the boys by at least two pieces of pie, and therefore, entitled to the prize.

Miss Hettie Francis, club member from Tabor, told the Edge Club members that an opportunity to try for a trip to the Boys' and Girls' Educational Encampment at Dallas fair, was worth the effort of any club member, to say nothing of the many other things which may come to club members.

Members and officers of the Brazos County Radio Club, the organization of young men of this county who own wireless radiophones are: W. A. Tolson, president, (he is a licensed operator who operates the big wireless radiophone station at College); P. H. Roberts, vice-president, licensed operator, (call number 5bx, owns both a receiving and sending set); Charley Griesser, secretary-treasurer, (call number 5mx, owns both receiving and sending set); Charles Nitch, publicity man, (receiving set only); Ralph Smith, Sergeant-at-arms (call number 5zp, owns private station at College); Sam Noto, (licensed operator owns both receiving and sending sets); other members owning only receiving sets are Harry Williams, Euwell Wheeler, Abney Stallings and George Martin.

Some of the interesting things heard last night over Mr. Griesser's radiophone were: Orchestra concert at Pine Bluff Arkansas at 8:45 o'clock, music very clear and the beat of the bars sounded as rhythmic as if we were standing 30 feet from the band; a concert sent out from the Government Recreation Hospital at Denver, Colorado, clear and forceful, (this can be heard practically every night); speaking by a man in Nebraska; then the Washington reports mentioned above; some excellent Victrola music, among the pieces being "Dapper Dan", a song sent out by Mr. W. S. Johnson from Sedalia, at least five hundred were here.

BRYAN BOYS RECEIVE DAILY REPORTS

FROM OVER THE NATION BY RADIOPHONES

(Radiophoned to Bryan Eagle, Courtesy of Charley Griesser)

From Saturday's Daily.

Washington, D. C. March 18.—Senator Tom Watson of Georgia attacked Secretary of the U. S. Treasury Andrew Mellon as holding that high position illegally. Mellon is "too near to Wall Street" to qualify for the post of head of the nation's treasury, the Senator asserted.

Washington, D. C., March 18.—Secretary of the Navy Edwin H. Denby has decided to complete construction of the battleship—buzz—buzz—buzz (them followed the strain of that popular song "hit" called "Dapper Dan" from somewhere over the United States).

The above reports were picked up by the Eagle from the valuable radiophone of Charles Griesser at his home on 24th Street. Mr. Griesser is the first man in Bryan to own and operate a radiophone, the marvelous new invention which makes it possible for a man in Bryan to hear human voices and music sent out from stations all over the United States from as far north as Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania to as far west as points in California.

Mr. Griesser was given government wireless license before the World War, but coming of the war cancelled it. He was re-issued a license March 1921. His radiophone is one of the best in this part of Texas, the receiving set alone being worth $246 and his sending set about $75. His aerial is one of the highest in Bryan, one pole being 70 feet and the other 50 feet above the ground, and the span of two wires 60 feet each across.

Members and officers of the Brazos County Radio Club, the organization of young men of this county who own wireless radiophones are: W. A. Tolson, president, (he is a licensed operator who operates the big wireless radiophone station at College); P. H. Roberts, vice-president, licensed operator, (call number 5bx, owns both a receiving and sending set); Charley Griesser, secretary-treasurer, (call number 5mx, owns both receiving and sending set); Charles Nitch, publicity man, (receiving set only); Ralph Smith, Sergeant-at-arms (call number 5zp, owns private station at College); Sam Noto, (licensed operator owns both receiving and sending sets); other members owning only receiving sets are Harry Williams, Euwell Wheeler, Abney Stallings and George Martin.

Last Saturday night Harry heard: A conversation between a man in Denver, Colorado, and a man in Florida between 8 and 8:30 o'clock, concerning market reports and weather forecasts. On Friday night he heard a talk between the Denver man and one in California, in addition to violin and other stringed instrumental music, a solo by a woman and an orchestra in action. Tuesday before last two pianos played at the same time, an orchestra later, then a woman sang, followed by a man singing and closed with a violin piece. Williams has his aerial 44 feet from the ground, of two wires each 70 feet long. One of the "City Fathers" of Bryan who has become a radiophone "faddist" is City Commissioner H. A. Burger, who is an uncle of Harry Williams.

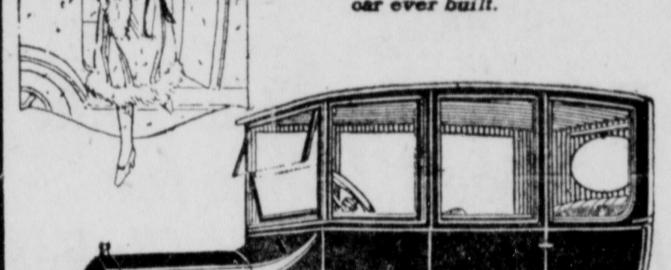

There are several other valuable radiophones situated in this city which help place Bryan "on the map" radiophonographical speaking.

SMALL RAIN IN BRYAN MANY PEOPLE IN TOWN

Several short violent little rains fell in Bryan beginning at 11 o'clock Saturday morning and ending at about 2 o'clock. There were several hundred people in the city from the country shopping and meeting old friends. The negroes were greatly in the majority, it being estimated that at least five hundred were here.

ELOQUENT APPEAL FOR STARVING ARMENIANS BY MRS. ANNA WALLER

Mrs. Anna Waller of the Near East Relief campaign made touching and sympathetic appeal for funds which will help rehabilitate Armenia and provide bread for the starving inhabitants of that stricken European country, before the congregation of St. Andrew's Episcopal church Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service. Mrs. Waller told in a forceful speech of the great amount of good being done by Americans in Armenia, in the "shadows of Mount Ararat, from which country we secured this religion which you come here this morning to worship." She used one masterful figure of speech when she said: "Can you imagine the loftiness of Mt. Ararat, with its everlasting snows on the summit, 17,000 feet high? Then invert this, and the subterranean depths its summit would reach in the earth's bowels can not compare with the depth of hopelessness and desperation of the disease-ridden, starving Armenians. The Turk has done all in his power to exterminate them. All the Armenian men have been killed in battle with the Turk. The women and children of the nation have been tortured and disgraced beyond Christian endurance."

"Armenia is a Christian nation, it is not asking for alms, it is asking only for support until it can rebuild its cities, cure its people of the horrible diseases now holding them down, and the chance to work out its own salvation. America is the richest nation on the earth today, and to her this people is pleading. There is one bright spot in Armenia, however, that is the hospital and school supported by Americans, and run by an American college girl, Anna Holt. She is protected from the Turk by an American cruiser, which is always to be seen in the Turkish waters off Armenia."

Mr. John A. Moore, is chairman of the Near East Relief committee in Bryan, and the campaign to raise $2,000, Bryan's share in this nation-wide drive starts today. Every one able to do so is requested to give money for this cause, which is a worthy one. A ship now being loaded with Texas wheat and clothes contributed by Texans will sail from Houston in April for Armenia, the Lone Star State's contribution to a great purpose. The pastors of the different churches of Bryan mentioned the Armenian Relief drive from the pulpit Sunday, and every business house, and each individual citizen of this city will be called on for his contribution.

Dr. Dixie Tucker, director for Central Texas of the relief work spoke at the First Methodist church Sunday morning and Sunday night addressed congregations at the Baptist tabernacle and the Presbyterian church. Mrs. A. W. Koch spoke at the Christian church Sunday School and at the Free Baptist church. Both Father J. B. Gleissner and Rev. P. Litwora spoke on the necessity of the cause at St. Joseph's and St. Anthony's Catholic churches.

MRS. MINNIE KNOBLAUCH BURIED IN BRYAN TODAY

NOTICE OF SALE OF PERSONAL PROPERTY

Whereas by an instrument in writing dated January 30, 1922, and duly filed and registered in the Chattel Mortgage Records of Brazos County, Texas, in Volume 3, page 145, A. C. Bailey, joined by his wife, Mrs. A. C. Bailey, did give and grant to the A. & M. College Club, a corporation of Brazos County, Texas, a mortgage on the following described personal property, to-wit: All household and kitchen furniture then owned by them and located on the campus grounds of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, in the building known as the "Shirley Hotel" and the "Annex" to same, including all dining room tables, chairs, furniture, dishes and other equipment used in the dining room operated by them in connection with said Shirley Hotel and Annex, and also all kitchen utensils, stoves, ranges and equipment then in or connected with said buildings, and all bed room sets, beds, bedding, chairs, tables furnishings, wash stands, drawers, stoves and all other furniture and equipment used in the bed rooms in said buildings, and also all other furniture, desks, fixtures and equipment of any and every kind then located in or connected with said buildings or either of them, saving and excepting from said property, however, the following described property claimed by said A. C. Bailey as her separate property and which was excepted from said mortgage, to-wit: One (1) kitchen cabinet, one (1) dining room buffet, one (1) china closet, one (1) ladies writing desk and one (1) bedstead, and for further description of said property reference is made to said Chattel Mortgage and its said registry, said mortgage being given to secure said A. & M. College Club in a certain promissory note, dated January 30th, 1922, for the sum of Twelve Hundred ($1200.00) Dollars, and executed by said A. C. Bailey and Mrs. A. C. Bailey, payable to said A. & M. College Club or order on or before July 1st, 1922, with interest from date at rate of eight (8) percent per annum, and said note also containing the usual ten per cent attorney's fee provision; and whereas said Mortgage specially provides that if said mortgagors should remove any of said property from its then location, or if the holder of said note should at any time feel unsafe or insecure from any cause, the said mortgagors should have the right to declare said note due and take possession of said property and sell same at public auction for cash on said date, after having given notice of the time, place and terms of sale as the law requires for sales of property under execution, the proceeds of said sale to be applied to payment of expenses of said sale, and to the payment of said note, and the balance, if any remaining, of said proceeds of sale to be paid to said mortgagors or their order; and whereas said mortgagors have removed a part of said property from its then location and whereas both of said mortgagors have abandoned the rest of said property and moved away from said A. & M. College, and the holder of said note feels unsafe and insecure, and pursuant to the provisions of said mortgage has declared, and hereby does again declare, said note fully due, and has placed same in the hands of an attorney for collection. Now therefore notice is hereby given that the said A. & M. College Club, being the legal owner and holder of said note, by virtue of the authority given to it under and by the terms of said mortgage, will offer all of said mortgaged property for sale, at public auction for cash in front of the said "Shirley Hotel" on the campus grounds of said Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, in Brazos County, Texas, on the first Tuesday in April, A. D. 1922, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m., the proceeds of sale to be disposed of as provided by said mortgage. Witness the signature of said A. & M. College Club, being the Tabor Club, Miss Una Edge, president; Miss Mary Ruth Holden, secretary; Miss Hettie Francis, reporter; Ben Frank Ammons, yell leader; "Jack" Francis, "rooter," showed the Edge Club members how to put on yell with a pep in them. BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB DEPT.

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

Mr. Carl Wipprecht, an enterprising young dairyman of Bryan, left the following interesting item on the county agent's desk: "The March 1, 1922, copy of the Jersey Bulletin, the National Jersey Cattle Magazine, has just reached this office and once more tells us that good dairy cows exist in Texas and Brazos county. This issue of the Bulletin gives the results of official testing of Jerseys for December 1921. Out of the near 10,000 cows of official test in U. S. only 720 made over 50 pounds of butter fat in December. In the various classes they were divided: Under two years old seven cows; junior two year old, 37 cows; senior three year, 55; senior three year old, 60; junior four year old, 88; senior four year old, 77; aged cows (over five years old), 351. Of this 720 had only 57 animals that were owned in 14 different herds, 37 being in the Lasater herd. In the junior four year old class where there were 88 cows that made over 50 pounds of butter fat, Brazos county is represented, in the 29th cow, in the list by Foxhall's Fair Lady of Bryan, 435931 with a production of 604 pounds of butter fat for December." Foxhall's Fair Lady is owned by Mr. Wipprecht who reports that he expects four of his cows to qualify for the 50 pound list during the month of March.

On last Thursday Secretary S. E. Eberstadt and County Agent C. L. Beason enjoyed a luncheon with the Harvey Boys' and Girls' Club. While the visitors and club members enjoyed the fine eats, country ham, chicken, sausage, eggs, pies, preserves, cakes, etc., club plans for the year were discussed, especial attention being called to the opportunity for club members to improve crop production, study seed selection, self improvement, community betterment, and last but not least the privilege of competing for the many prizes offered club members in Texas. Prof. C. E. Bobo, Harvey Club leader, is determined to put the Harvey Club to the front this year.

The most convincing argument that standard bred poultry pays was made by Mr. J. F. Oates in an address before the Millican Community Club Monday night when he produced figures showing that forty S. C. White Leghorn pullets had made him a clear profit of $160.82 since the first of last October.

Professor Anton Ernst, director of music in the Allen Academy, made an interesting address at the Millican Community Club Monday night on "Music in the Home and in the Community." He stated that music is a thing for which he had lived 50 years and for which he hoped to live another 50. Mr. Ernst called attention to the marked difference in the languages of the many races of mankind, but pointed to the fact that music is the universal language of the soul, understood and stirring the soul of man wherever found. He said that the Chinaman may like his rice, the German his sauer kraut, the Mexican his tomate, the American his "moonshine," but all alike love music. Three members of the orchestra were left to come with Mr. O. A. McKenzie but some one who borrowed Mr. McKenzie's car did not return with it until late at night, thus explaining. Tuesday morning, the reason why the other "Allen boys" never did show up at Millican. County Agent Beason stated that whatever the cause, he would some time take the three young men to Millican and let them spend an entire Sunday with—well, are ready to go, boys?

On last Friday District Agent A. L. Buchanan and County Agent C. L. Beason attended the boys and girls club meeting at Edge, where a luncheon was served promptly at 12 o'clock, during which time club projects were discussed. More than 50 club members were present at the meeting, all anxious not only to share in the good eats which had been prepared for this special occasion, but also anxious to learn something that would be helpful to them in their respective club projects, the growing of corn, cotton, peanuts, raising poultry, livestock, etc. Johnnie Payne, the club president, called the meeting to order and asked that the time for discussion be given to the visitors present. County Agent Beason had stopped by the Tabor Club for five "veteran" club members, to accompany the party to Edge and give instruction and inspiration to the newly organized club at that place.
